G. W. at the 'Phone.

Do They Believe the Hatchet Story? And a Host of Other Bright Things,

SEE TO-MORROW'S EVENING WORLD.

PRICE ONE CENT.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1889.

tions Committee To-Day.

Merely an Oversight That Snaith Overdrew His Account $14,000.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 2L.—Charles B. Andrews, the Superintendent of Buildings, who accused of having taken great part in the ciling robbery, was the first witness before the Appropriations Committee to-day. The original plans and specifications, he said, were prepared by Frankiju H. Jones. When the work was in progress a short time he decided to order the use of papier-mache. Snaith, he said, would come to him at the end of the month and say he wanted some money. Andrews would tell Rowe to prepure the bills of what Snaith had received.

Then Howe brought the bills to Andrews and he audited them, and Snaith got his "It was an oversight in me," he admitted under cross-examination. "to allow Snaith to overdraw his account by $14,000. "I did not know about it until I saw it in the expert's report."

He denied that he had ever in any way learned the amount of the bids before they were opened by the Speaker.

PIGOTT ON THE STAND.

IN TELLING HOW HE GOT THE LETTERS HE CONVICTS HIMSELF OF PERJURY.

LONDON, Feb. 21.-In the Parnell Com mission to-day Richard Pigott took the witness-stand

The court-room and adjacent corridors were filled with people, and a large crowd gathered in front of the Law Courts, Intense interest was manifested to hear the Pigott, being sworn, said he met Murphy causily in Paris; Murphy introduced him-self as formerly a compositor in Pigott's office. After several interviews, Murphy greed to find out where the Parnell letters rere.

He altimately told Pigott of a black has containing the first batch of letters, and said be could have it for £500. Pigott returned to bublin to obtain instructions, and went back to Paris with the money.

In the mean time the Clan-na-Gael had claimed the letters.

This difficulty was finally overcome and the letters were delivered to Pigott, he evening before the Tribunal of Five never to reveal the circumstances under which he had obtained them, or the names of the per-had obtained them, or the names of the per-sens from whom he had received them, and never to appear as a witness with reference to them.

The letters were brought to Dublin and duly handed over to Houston.

The witness denied in the most solemn and emphatic manner that he forged the letters.

HER LOVE AS ENDURING AS LIFE.

Nother and Babe Perish in the Flames-Sad

INDECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD ! PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 21.-A fire occurred in an apartment-house on South street last night, in which a mother and baby lost

The flames started on one of the lower floors and quickly spread to the top, which was occupied by Mark Schwartz, his wife and was occupied by Mark Schwartz, his wife and three children.

Two of the children were, fortunately, playing down stairs, and but Schwartz, his wife and baby were in the room when the fire broke out.

When the former's escape by the stairway was out of he immediately the window callwas cut off he jumped from the window, call-ing on his wife to follow him. He was not ing on his wife to follow him. He was not seriously injured.

The Fire Department came up and made several ineffectual attempts to reach the woman, who stood at the window with her babe clasped to her breast.

Each time thosy were driven back by the smoke and flames.

When the fire was checked the grimy workers entered the blackened ruins on the third floor. Instinctively each of them drew his hand across his eyes.

There on the floor were the charted re-

There on the floor were the charred re mains of the mother, and tightly clasped in her arms was her babe.

Entertainment Postponed.

In consequence of a sudden death in the fam first the janitor and caterer of the Patrick Divver Association the entertainment that was to be held this evening at their new club-rooms, No. 30 Oliver street, has been postponed until March 18.

Clifton Entries for To-Morrow. ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. I OLIFTON RACE TRACK, N. J., Feb. 21,-The bllowing are the Clifton entries for Friday.

Purse $250, six and one-half furiongs test, 119; Kingsiord, 119; Fakir, 119; Nerina, 114; Retta, 114; Steve Still y Reads Money), 107; Howe 107; He sell (10 merly Reads Money), 107; Howe 107; Hot satch, 102 b.

Becomd Haces—Purse $250; one mile, Littlefellow b. 124; Heury George, 114; Havana, 124; Ernest, 124; Duple, 124; Telegraph, 124; Harwood, 124; Catter, 124; Sir Roderick, 119; Oaborn, 110; Boodle, 119; Chacesller, 119; Die George, 119; Cracksman, 104; Littlefellow, 124; Songster, 119; Cracksman, 104; b.

[04]h. Race—Purse $500 handicap; six and one ball farlongs.—Gracksman, 124; Speedwell, 123; Carlagis, 110; Satisfaction, 113; Long Jack (former) flector), 112; Ernest, 111; Osceola, 110; Mattellowan, 112; Ernest, 111; Osceola, 110; Mattellowan, 110; Afred, 107; Fountain, 105; Barcher, 102; Louise, 101; Souvenir, 102; Courtier, 86 b.

Selb., Fitth Race—Purse $250; selling allowances, five subline of a mile.—Harrodeburg. 121; Judge Norton 121; Robat, 116; Vigilance, 115; Fred Davis, 115 Seath 110; Moint Line, 116; His Grace, 112; Saluda, 110; Moint Shape, 101; Harry Brown, 100; Matt Shape, 101; Harry Brown, 100; Mary T. 101; Ida Wosh, 104; Bridget Keaton, 104; Nerins, 100 lb.

A Bad Spell. A merchant's clerk wrote a check for forty dellars, and spelled the numerical adjective "foots-rt-y." His employer directed his attention to the error, with the remark. You seem to have a bad spell this morning, to which the clerk replied, "sure enough; I ve which the clerk replied, "sure enough; I ve with the "g-h;" Let us hope the clerk will till further amend his orthography, meanwhile, if any suffer from a "bad spell" of headscire. Superinduced by constipation, ask your drugglet for Dr. PIERCE'S PIERASAT PURGATIVE PELLERS. Entirely vegetable, mild, prompt and effective, and a most efficient remedy for crangements of the liver, stomach and lowels."

Something More About That Ceiling His Life Story a Romance in Financial Wedged Between Window and Boller

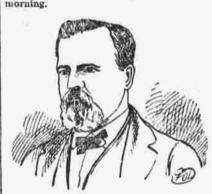

Away at Heidelberg.

Four Struggling Young Partners Who The Poor Man Was Cold and Homeless

History.

Became Money Kings.

TARRETAL CAMPS TO THE EVENING WORLD I LONDON, Feb. 21. - News is received that James C. Flood, of California, died at the

Mr. Flood has long been a sufferer from Bright's disease, and a report of his death, which proved to be premature, gained circulation last October.

He had been told before coming to Europe that the disease had a powerful hold upon hum, and specialists in New York and London saily informed him that the end was inevitable, though it might be deferred by treatment at Homburg.

He removed from Homburg to Heidelberg last Soutanher, accompanied by the wrife and last September, accompanied by his wife and daughter, and was apparently much restored, but on Oct. 8 be had a relapse.

THE RISE OF FLOOD.

He Was a Poor Irish Lad-He Became

It was not many years later that he came to New York, and the Spring of 1851 found him bound for California in the ship Elizabeth Ellen.

One Billy O'Brien, who came with young Flood from Ireland, became his partner in a small saloon in San Francisco, and with them were joined later two other young Irish emigrants, Mackey and Fair.

These four partners in after years became the great Bonanza quartet of California millionaires.

Flood and O'Brien stuck to the saloon.

Mackey and Fair, supplied with money and Mackey and Fair, supplied with money and tools by the other partners, went prospecting they kept their eyes and ears open for points on the mines. They speculated and had good

Mackey and Fair did not prosper so well at first, but in 1865 came the Consolidated Virginia discovery, from the old Comstock lode, and in this the wealth of the four got rich enough. It was only in the Spring of 1888 that, learning of his serious physical ailment, he settled up his affairs and went to Europe for his health. He had then been ailing several years.

The Bank of Nevada was founded by the quartet of millionaires as a sort of clearing-house for the immense operations of the firm. It is now owned by John W. Mackey and the air. Floor had a paintial residence in San Francisco, the 300-foot lot on which it stands occupying an entire block. The house, facing on California street, is about one hundred and thirty feet square, and is built in the style of the Italian Renaissance.

Mr. Flood was of medium height, slightly corpulent, full-faced and had hair and whis-

Revengefulness was a strong trait of his Revengeruness was a strong trait of his character, and he steadily devoted time and money for months to bring about the financial ruin of Ralston, a California millionaire who once spoke disparagingly of him in the Ex-change. Ralston was driven to suicide.

The Harlem D. C. to Celebrate It Too. Of all the celebrations of Washington's birth day which will be had throughout the city Friday none will be more unique than that of the Harlem Democratic Club. A grand smoking concert and jollification will be indulged in, and the bill of fare will consist of chowder, music and fun.

Rochester Wants the Double Engle.

[ Prom the Rochester Times, ] The New York EVENING WORLD is conducting rissible in that connection. A double gold

News Summary.

The Duke of Newcastle weds Miss Candy at All Saints' Church, London. Mr. Gladstone arrives in London in good realth after his tour in Italy.

Florida's sub-tropical exposition is opened at Jacksonville with impressive ceremonies.

Dr. D. W. Bliss, who was President Garfield's physician, is suddenly stricken with paralysis in Washington. A party of several hundred boomers, with 100 vagons, crosses the Kansas border for settle-leut in Oklahoma.

ment in Oklahoma.

William G. Bates is appointed by Judge O'Brien receiver for the L. M. Bates Company, of Sixth avenue and Twenty-third street.

Luke Emerson, a Missouri horse dealer, is put on trial in London for wilful murder for shouting a man named Robinson on Oxford street. Berlin Ministerial organs say that Germany will demand of the United States Government that it arrest and punish John C. Klein for his alleged attack on German seaman at Samoa.

Scene on the Elevated. Biones-Fine smoke that, Smythers.
Smythers-Year-Consols, long Havana filled all to

ANDREWS ON THE STAND A RICH MAN DEAD. HIS HORRIBLE FATE.

He Testifies Before the Appropria- Millionaire James C. Flood Passes Killed by Scalding Steam in the Cabin of a Tug-Boat.

and Literally Boiled to Death.

and Was Seeking Shelter.

A bitter cold wind went howling along the river fronts this morning. Its chilling influence was felt by a homeless man, who had crawled in between some boxes last pight. He awoke and wearily walked away to seek some more comfortable shelter. In the slip at the edge of the street the tug-boat J. Jewett was lying. The unfortunate outcast climbed aboard this craft. He tried the latticed shutter on the boiler room window and found it unlocked.

He opened it and found the window down. If he could only squeeze in there he was sure of warmth, at least for the night.

It was a hard struggle to get in, however, for the room was small and the boiler took up nearly all the space to within a couple of feet of the window.

The wanderer managed to get one leg in The wanderer managed to get one leg in first—he could not got both in at once—then the other, and then by squeezing and wrenching himself downward managed to get his body in until his face was below the level of the window-sill. Two cross beams were the only flooring in the room.

It was dark, and the man could see nothing. He kicked about with his feet, groping for a foothold on the beams, but while doing so smalled the class water, guage.

so smashed the glass water-guage.

This gave free vent for the boiling hot steam in the boiler.

It poured forth in volumes, enveloping the nan from nead to foot.

He screamed with terror.

He struggled to get down.

He could not move. Desperately he fought to clamber back out Desperately he fought to clamper back out of the window.

This was equally impossible. His violent struggles only helped to wedge him more firmly between the hot boiler and the woodwork of the boiler-room.

His screams were heartrending.

Charley Burns, the fireman, was asleep in a cobin near by with the mate and cook.

Hearing the cries, they rushed forth, to find hot steam pouring out of the narrow the hot steam pouring out of the narrow window opening.

They could see nothing else, but an agonized voice came out with the steam pleading.

"Oh, my God, help me!"

Before the firemen could rush down in the engine-room and turn off the steam the cries had ceased.

When the steam melted away the man way.

When the steam melted away the man was When the steam melted away the man was found parboiled in between hot pines, boiler and woodwork. The skin had slipped off the face, leaving it blood red, raw looking and horrible to gaze upon.

The flesh had been brushed off on the hot pipes, and there it hung dried, in shreds, with nortions of the scalp, with the hair adhering that had been rubbed off in the same way.

So tightly was the poor fellow wedged in there that it required the exertion of four men to drag him out.
He was laid on the deck, with some old clothes thrown over his poor face.

He was identified after daylight this morning as Charles McCormack, aged forty, resident of Boston, who had been employed as a fireman on some of the North River tugboats.

He had been out of work lately and had no watchmen guard them at night.

"If we are blessed with good said Secretary Hitchcock this make money. If we have rains place to sleep for several days past.

Some irresponsible person reported, in connection with the occurrence this morning, that he was a thief who had met his death while attempting to plunder the vessel. while attempting to plunder the vessel.

Capt. Brandon, of the Jewett, indignantly denied this. To an Evening World reporter he said:

"There was absolutely nothing of value in

There was absolutely nothing of value in the boiler-room that he could steal, and the men who have identified his body assure me that he was an honest fellow.

"I am set slied that if it was booty he was looking for he would not go to the boilerroom to look for it, being familiar enough with tugboats to know that he would get little or nothing there.

"The unfortunate man was drinking yesterday and went to sleep on the pier last night. When he awoke he was cold and then came aboard to try and get into the boiler coom for warmth," he concluded. The body was sent to the Morgue.

FLAGS AND SPEECHES.

An Interesting Presentation at the East Ninth Street School This Morning.

The female department of Grammar School 6. Miss E. M. Jackson, principal, at 710 East Ninth street, presented a beautiful sight this morning, decorated as it was with flags and bunting, and crowded with bright-faced girls, and proud friends and relatives. It was the occasion of the presentation of a set of flags to the school by Miss Laura A. Graham, a graduate of the class of 1888, and an excellent programme was prepared to celebrate the event.

The exercises began with the singing of an anthem by the school, which was followed by a trio consisting of Sophie Sticht, Christine Roesch and Miccalena Ricci, who sang "Teeting To-night" very sweetly. Eight little girls gave various quotations appropria e to the flag of our country, after which Miss Sadie Cohen informed the assembled guests of the origin of The flags were then presented by ex-Trus tee George B. Rhoads, who made a few next remarks, to which Miss Martha Herzog re-remarks, to which Miss Martha Herzog responded, accepting the flags on behalf of the school.

Speeches were made by Dr. Elliot Coffin, Rev. D. G. Wylie, Miss Grace II. Dodge, Inspector Benjamin Blumenthal, G.W. Debeveise, Superintendent of School Buildings, and Mr. Louis Cohen. W. A. Graham, Chauman of the Board of Trustees, acted as master of exempting. of ceremonies.

SOL AND JAKE.

Two Republican Police Justices After Fed eral Patropage.

The Republican Police Justices Patterson and Smith, knowing that their lease of official life will seen be cut short by Mayor Grant, are casting about in search of Federal plums.

Already The Evening World has announced that the ambition of Jakey Patterson is to become Surveyor of the Port. Sol Smith flies equally high, and would be the Customs Appraiser of this district.

HE FOUND HIS FATHER DEAD

A HEART-BREAKING ACCIDENT ON THE HARLEM RAILOAD.

William Burke Killed on the Way to the Trement Station-His Son Had Warned Him Not to Walk Along the Trackand a Few Minutes Later Saw Hi Father's Bend Rody-A Futal Lateness

The crushed body of a man had just been carried into the freight-room of the Tremont station on the Harlem Railroad, and the speaker was a lad of nineteen, whose face expressed agony and fear.

to 6 o'clock, and the train from Tuckahoe that should have left at 5, 55 was still standing in front of the station.

Then the locomotive began to puff noisily as it pulled away the cars, but above the rumble could be heard the crying of the lad, who had thrown himself upon the body.

The dead man was William Burke. He lived with his family, on One Hundred and Eighty-second street, between Washington and Railroad avenues. It was his custom to take every morning the 5.55 train for his lusiness downtown. His son always accompanied him. iness downtown. His son panied him.

This morning be was a little late and the

This morning be was a little late and the lad left the house first.

The Tremont station is at One Hundred and Seventy-seventh street, and the shortest way to get there was to go along the track. But the going that way is verilous, and the son before leaving said to his father:

"Be sure you don't go along the track, even if it is a little late," and went down by way of Washington avenue.

The sun is late in rising howadays, but the moon and stars were out, and at this hour it moon and stars were out, and at this hour it moon and state were out, and at this hour it was fairly light.

The lad went whistling along until he got to One Hundred and Seventy-eighth street.

Then there was a screeching of whistles.

Something had happened on the track and the train was being called to a standstill.

In a vague way it ran through his mind that some one had been run over.

Then like a flash of light came the thought that it was his father.

that it was his father.
Almost dezed with dread and fear, he ran towards the track.
When he reached it the train was motionless, and some men were bearing a body toward the baggage-car. The next moment the locomotive was started and the train was pulled up before the station.

The recognition of the dead father by the son drew tears to the eyes of the little gathering of people in the station.

The dead man was fifty-four years old,

THRONGS TO SEE THE DOGS

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN'S SHOW A GREATER ATTRACTION THAN EVER.

The attendance at the bench show at Madion Square Garden increases daily. It is a wonderful show. Some idea of the magnitude of the enterprice of this Westminster Kennel Club may be gathered from these figures: The net expense to the Club for the four days will be over $15,000. More than five thousand persons passed the turnstiles at the Garden yesterday and the attendance is greater to-day and will be double that figure to-morrow, the concluding day of the show. Ninety attendants are employed during the day to look after the wants and needs of the dogs and ten

"If we are blessed with good weather," the Club, though of course owners of dogs which get no prize are disappointed. "Exhibitors grow wiser and more philosophical with experience," said Mr. Hiscock. "They may differ with the judges, but they know that if the latter have erred it is honestly."

Over thirteen hundred of the dogs remain in the pavilion over night, and not a canine will leave the Garden finally till 10 o'clock tomorrow night, Prince and Irene, the magnificent pair of PHINCE.

Heimerle, attract more admirers than any other of the big dogs. Prince and Irene were bred by August Baab. Prince was born in May, 1887, and his father was New Tiger. Irene, who is lighter in color, is a year older than her spouse, and is the daughter of Pascha and Diana II.

Another deg wonder is Ivan, the Siberian volf-hound, presented to Consul-General Way by an attache of the Czar's Court. He is the only specimen of this remarkable breed in America, and he has caused several panies by his herce onslaughts on stuffed animal signs in our busy streets and wanted to eat up the buffalos at Central Park on one occaon. Yet he is very gentle and loving to iman beings, especially of dimpled hildren. Parker's trained dogs will exhibit morning, afternoon and evening to-morrow.

Did you know ten George Washingtons were iving in New York to-day? See to-morrow's EVENING WORLD.

2 O'CLOCK.

BLOWN TO PIECES.

The big clock in the passenger room pointed | Dynamite's Terrible Work on the Western Boulevard.

> Terrible Fate of the Foreman of a Gang of Laborers.

> Windows Shattered for Blocks Around

Thought by Some to Have Been an Earth-

The roar of exploding dynamite and t shower of stones, earth and glass made dire confusion this morning all sround West

Seventy-seventh street and the Boulevard. The windows were shattered in nearly all the buildings for the area of half a mile. from Seventy-second street to Eighty-third street. People rushed from their houses and many thought it was an earthquake. A large box of dynamite cartridges, wher a cellar is being excavated near the corner of Seventy-seventh street and Boulevard, had immediate neighborhood had recovered from the shock they rushed to the spot. A few minutes before a large tool-box had stood there, and a man had just opened it.

bespattered bones and flesh. All around there were sickening indica

The man who had been blown to fragments was James Jewett Smith, the foreman of the gang of men who had been working on the premises. Smith was sixty years old, and lived with his family and 562 West Fifty-fifth street.

Then began a search for the remains. After an hour's work about sixty pounds of shattered bones were put in an old soan box and taken to the One Hundredth street police tance above Seventy-eighth street.

The explosion had occurred on the grounds formerly owned by Fernando Wood and only about 60 feet from the ex-Mayor's old Bloomingulate mansion.

The property is now owned by a man named Sciner, who purchased it two months ago from Stearns, the Fortieth street butcher. Since the property was bought a gang of ten or twelve men have been excavating the cellars. The property extends along the Boulevard about seventy-five feet, and has a fron age on Seventy-seventh street of 108 feet. It was intended to creet three elegant flat houses.

The work was being done by Hickey & Green, who had placed Smith in charge. The foreman was an old builder, and must have ully appreciated the danger of handling ex-fully appreciated the danger of handling explosives.

Nevertheless, the dynamite cartridges, which are now said to have numbered over one hundred and measuring eight inches in length, were stored away in an old wooden tool-box a ong with a large number of "exploders," or caps, at da lot of iron tools.

Smith arrived at 6.20 o'clock this morning and prepared for the day's work. His men were distributed around the excavation. At about 6.30 he started to open the tool chest in which the cartridges were stored.

The chest was on a ridge in front of a tree. Before going up the hill, he stopped to speak to the engineer in regard to the progress of the work. Then he continued on.

Suidenly there was an according Suddenly there was an explosion and the men whom he had left a few moments before ran up.

The limbs of the tree had been blown as a wreck.

At the time of the explosion Mrs. McCaffrey was sitting by the kitchen stove. A flying piece of glass struck her in the face and cut a deep gash in her cheek.

Annual ball of the John F. Hayes Association at New York League Hall, 112 East One Hun-dred and Tenth street, on Monday evening, Feb. 25. Entertainment and reception of the Literar Circle, Young Men's Hebrew Association, Lyri Hall, Sixth avenue and Forty-second street, Sun day evening, Feb. 24.

Anonal musical and Literary entertainment and ball of Gettys Lodge, No. tl L O. O. F. at German Masonic Temple, 230 East Fifte nith street, manuscration evening, Monday, March 4. Twenty-fifth anniversary and ball of the Chebra Buan Lesle, Arlington Hall, Sunday evening, Feb. 24.

ing, Feb. 24.

Annual ball of the Sarsfield Guard, Company G. Sixty-mith Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., Tammany Hall, Wednesday evening, Feb. 27.

Annual reception of the Lady Man gers of the Holgew Sheltering Guardian Society, at the Home, Eleventh avenue and One Hundred and Fifty-first street, Sunday, Feb. 24.

Second accural entertainment in aid of sick benefit fund of the John R. Finch Commandery No. 344, United Order of the United Commandery No. 345, United Order of the United Commandery No. 345, United Order of the United Commandery No. 345, United Order of the United Commanders No. 345, United Order of the United Commanders No. 345, United

Legitime Reported to Have Put His Complete Local Government for

Hir polyte.

The Southerners, Out of Ammunition, Were Forced to Fight with Clubs and Knives.

SEPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. ] BOSTON, Feb. 21.—The latest intelligence from Hayti is furnished by officers of the steamer Delta, which arrived last evening session, was read by commission. direct from Port de Paix, baving consumed but seven days in making the trip.

THE EVENING WORLD correspondent, as usual, was the first newspaper representative to board the steamer.

From the second officer it was learned that a ser ous conflict between the Northern and Southern armies had occurred about three days before the steamer left, several miles below St. Marc, in which the army under Hippolyte had been completely routed.

Between two and three hundred were killed and many wounded "There is no communication between the onstwise towns," said the officer, "and we learned of this fight from a native mail carrier who had arrived in Port de Paix from

St. Marc on the day of our departure. He informed us that the Northerners had first blockaded the port of St. Marc, after which Legitime's army moved towards the which Legitime's army moved towards the interior of the country.

On the second day of the march a detachment of Hippolyte's army was encountered and a fierce engagement ensued with the result as above stated. sult as above stated.
"The fighting was conducted mainly from places of concealment and the success of the Northerners was due to the superiority of their arms, they being supplied with improved rifles while the majority of Hippolyte's men were obliged to rely on clubs and knives."

knives."
"Were you subjected to any insults or do-tention while at Port de Paix?" asked the reporter.

"No. We of course exercised some care in making the harbor and did not run in until after dark.

"We did not see a Haytian men-of-war while

"We did not see a Haytian man-of-war while we were there. It is an undoubted fact that Logitime has the best of the fight so far, though from what is heard while ashore I should say that the sentiment of the natives was largely in favor of Hiprolyte's ascendency to the Presidency of Unisland.

"A rumor has gained considerable currency at Port-de-Paix that Hopolyte has been killed by a Northern soldier, who it is claimed received $2,000 either from Legitime or his friends for the commission of the deed."

The steamer Delta is one of the original Cunard fleet, and although she has outlived her usefulness as a companion steamer for Cunard fleet, and although she has outlived her usefulness as a companion steamer for such as compose the Cunard fleet of to-day, she is a staunch craft and, as one of the crew remarked last evening, "she can outsail many of the transatlantic steamers now in use." The old house flag of the Cunards still flies from her forepeak.

KNOCKED OUT IN THE SEVENTH ROUND, bannon Planted One Between Geoghan's Eyes and He Went Down Like a Log.

SEPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD, I Francisco Pale 91 The field tween Shannon and Geoghan, middleweights, at the Golden Gate Club last night, ended in the seventh round with a clear knock-out for Shannon.

Club members had backed Googhan heavily, and in the second round they set up a yell when it looked as though Shannon was He rallied, however, and in the fifth and sixth rounds slugged Geoghan terribly, clos-ing one eye and badly using up the other. In the seventh he hit Geoghan square beween the eyes, and the latter went down like Both men showed science and pluck PREMIER M. MELINE.

A Cubinet at Last Formed with M. De Frey cinct Minister of War. INV CABLE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION ! Pants, Feb. 21.—The morning papers nuounce the following as the personnel of the new Cabinet : M. Meline, Premier; M. de Freyeinet; Minis-ter of War; M. Barbey, Minister of Marine; M. Constans, Minister of the Interior; M. Rouvier, Minister of Finance; M. Sarrien, Minister of Justice; M. Loubet, Minister of Public Works; M. Dautresine, Minister of Commerce.

The Ministers of Foreign Affairs and of Education have not yet been appointed, but the portfolios of these departments will doubtless be announced to-day.

NORTH STAR WINS THE PENNANT. The Annual Ice-Yacht Regatts at Pough keepsie Yesterday.

INPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD I POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Feb. 21, -The annua ce-yacht regatta of the Carthage Landing Ice-Yacht Club, for the class pennant, occurred late yesterday. The starters were White Wing, Ethel, Whiz and North Star. The distance sailed was twenty niles, and the race was won by the North Star in th. Im. 5s. Miss W. V. Wilson, Frank Swan and Mr. Van Cox, of the Ocean Steamship Com-pany, New York, were guests of the Club.

AN EMINENT PHYSICIAN DEAD. Dr. Bliss, Who Attended President Gurfield.

Passed Away This Morning.

REPUTAL TO THE EVENING WORLD I

Washington, Feb. 21. Dr. D. W. Bliss, wh vas the constant attendant of President Garfield during the latter's illness, died at his residence here at 7.15 o'clock this morning. O'Brien Transferred to Galway Jail. (RESCIAL CABLE TO THE EVENING WORLD.)

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—There was a large gather or of excited people at Traice this morning to witness the departure of Mr. William O'Brien to the Galway Jail to serve out his sentence of six months. There was a strong guard in attend-ance, and no disturbance was created other than cheering the martyr.

We don't object to crediting a report of Washington's first inaugural to a newspaper of 1789. See to-morrow's EVENING WORLD.

IS HIPPOLYTE DEAD? NONE FOR IRELAND.

A Paid Assassin Alleged to Have Killed The Queen Submits Recommendations to Parliament.

> Increased Estimates Necessary for National Defenses to Offset the Action of European Powers.

Flood's Revenge on the Man Who Spoke of Him Slightingly. and barrels on pier 13, East River, to sleep

James Clair Flood was a native of Ireland. there he was born in 1825.

for gold.

The men behind the bar found their business increasing rapidly. They moved into more spacious quarters. And all the time young men was founded.

Flood did not retire from business when he Flood estate.

Mr. Flood had a palatial residence in San kers of a peculiar hue-almost copper-col-

"Dream Tournament"-if the word is pereagle will be awarded the dreamer of the most remarkable dreams, Julian Hawthorne, the novelist, to be the judge. Some one in Roches-ter, the home of dreamers, should win that and a House Wrecked.

quake

blown up. As soon as the few people who were in the

When the men got there there was nothing but two holes in the ground, where the box had stood, and pieces of torn and blood-tions of what had taken place.

station.

Scraps of the man's clothing were found all around for a distance of sixty feet, and a stekening relic in the shape of a part of his head was picked up 125 feet away, quite a dis-

The limbs of the tree had been blown away, and there was a large crack at the base of the tree where the box had stood.

A piece of heavy chain was found sixty feet of, and an eighteen-bound sledge hammer was picked up near West. End avenue, nearly one hundred feet distant.

There were scraps of steel drills lying around, and a twisted steel crowbar was discovered forty feet away.

All of the windows in a large stable 100 feet behind the place of the explosion were broken, and the concussion had played general havoe inside of the building.

Parts of the ceiling fell and a lock was forced from the door.

P. McCaffrey, the watchman, who lives on the second floor, showed an Evening World reporter around through the building. It was a wreck.

Coming Events.

The grand annual ball of the Harrover Pleasurs Club will be held at Webster Hall. Thursday evening, Feb. 28, 1889. Music by Prof. Davis orchestra.

Forces to Route. England and Scotland.

IBY CAULE TO THE PRESS NEWS ASSOCIATION.1 LONDON, Feb. 21. - Parliament reassembled to-day. The royal speech, reopening the

It is in substance as follows: Since the last session of Parliament nothing has occured to affect the cordial relations with all foreign powers. The operations of the British forces in Egypt and Thibet have been brought to a faforable conclusion. I have consented to enter into a conference with Germany and the United States at Herlin on Samoan affairs in continuance of the conference recently held at Washington.

defense is rendered necessary by the action of the European Powers. Bills will be introduced making local government complete in England and preparing for the same in Scotland.

Au increase of the estimates for National Measures will be proposed to develope the resources of Ireland, and amending the pro-cedure of various tribunals dealing with real property in Ireland. Recent statutes there are restoring confi-Recent statutes there are restoring confidence and having salutary results.

Legal provisions are necessary for the execution of the Sugar Bounties Convention and the conversion of Three Per Cents.

A measure is also necessary for restoring gold coinage to a satisfactory condition.

Bills will be introduced concerning the Universities of Secutland; with reference to the lashifity of employers for accident to their workmen; establishing a Department of Agriculture; lessening the expense of the transfer of land, and remedying the abmaes attaching to joint stock companies limited.

In conclusion the Queen invokes the blessing of the Almighty upon the labors of Parliament.

EXCISE" WORKED A CHARM

LOTS OF SALOON-KEEPERS GAVE FIVE DOLLAR BILLS TO BOGUS INSPECTORS.

Four Men Who Gathered a Rich Harvest

Among Tenth Ward Liquor Stores-Tickets for a Rall That Will Not Come Off

Sold with the Greatest Ease-Capt. Cassidy Takes Them In. Police Capt, Cassidy, of the Eldridge street station, who has long been on the track of bogus detectives and policemen who make a business by swindling saloon keepers in his precinct, this morning arraigned in Essex

Market Court four men, who he says have been working an entirely new racket.

They are charged with having represented themselves as inspectors from the Board of Excise and coercing perhaps erring saloonkeepers into giving them money. The men, who were arrested last night in Solomon Bransen's saloon, 44 Orchard street, by Ward Detectives Rean, Connor and Mul.

by Ward Detectives Reap, Connor and Mullane, gave their names as James Ward, aged thirty-four, of 50s West Thirty-ninth street; Thomas Ward, aged forty-two, of 213 West One Hundred and Thirty-first street; John McGovern, aged forty-five, of 412 East Twelfth street, and Joseph Hayes, of 641 West Thirty-ninth street.

The men are well dressed and had lots of money upon them when arrested. Their names do not appear upon the roll of employees of the Board of Excise.

There was a crowd of saloon-keepers in court—some of them women—and all seemed to have had past unpleasant experiences with the prisoners. the prisoners.

Those who came forward and made complaints were Solomon Bransen, 44 Orchard street: K. Berknoltz, 54 Ridge street: C. Mannison, 156 Stanton street: Mrs. Aronson, 33 Ludlow street; Thiie Paskusky, 23 Essex street: C. Shuiman, 17 Orchard street; James Johnson, 56 Stanton street; Peter Snell, 45 Delaucey street, and John Jameson, 133 Essex street.

Several of the complainants stepped up and told Justice O'Reilly how the men got their money. Their stories were curiously alike as to the method adopted and the words used, Saloon-Keeper Bransen said the men came into his saloon about 10 P. M., when he was behind the bar.

They stood before the framed excise H-

They stood before the framed excise license and said to each other.
"Yes: he needs another license."
Then they beckoned to him and said with mysterious winks
"We're Excise inspectors. We can arrest you for selling liquors under this license."
Two of the men afterwards called the saloon-keeper aside and whispered:
"We have no wish to harm you. If you purchase $5 worth of tickets we'll square it with the Excise Commissioners."
The tickets read as follows:

Empley Association, Tuesday Evening, Feb. 28, 1889. Tickets Prepaid. Bransen bought five tickets for $5 and according to their several stories so did many other saloon-keepers.

Capt. Cassidy says there is no Empire Association and that no one knows of such a ball being intended to be given. Excise Inspector Lansing Pruin came from the Excise Commissioners to say that the prisoners had no connection with that Department.

FIRST MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT,

Lawyer John Fraser appeared for the men, who were each held in default of $1,000 ball for examination. True Happiness.

little sigh. "true happiness is something that is very rarely experienced, isn't it?" "Yes," he replied, "very rarely, and yet I have known it."

[From the Merchant Traceler.]
"Ah, "she said, with a tremulous, vibratory

"When?"
"This very evening."
"With me?"
"Yes: about five minutes ago, when you told me that your father was laid up with rheumstism in his right leg."